CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Athens Summer School 2018 “Moving the EU Forward”

Study on EU contemporary issues at the heart of European culture and civilization!

The Institute of European Integration and Policy of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration (National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, Greece) is pleased to announce the organization of the Athens Summer School 2018 to be held on 5-11 July 2018 at the Department’s premises, located at 42-44, Aiolou str. (Monastiraki area) in the historical center of Athens. The Athens Summer School is one of the main activities of the Jean Monnet module “Moving the EU forward” co-funded by the ERASMUS+ programme.

The Athens Summer School is an intensive interdisciplinary 7-day course (33 teaching hours), that provides comprehensive knowledge on the different aspects of the economic crisis and the key challenges that Europe faces in the post-crisis era.

The number of participants is limited to 30 advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students from EU and non-EU countries, so as their active involvement and constructive discussion with the course tutor to be ensured.

The lectures are given by distinguished academics and recognized researchers with a thorough academic background and political perception on EU politics and policies. The Summer School lectures are held in English.

The participants receive the Athens Summer School handbook including courses’ syllabi and literature related to each thematic stream, information on life in Athens and certificate of attendance.

Co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union
