We are proud to combine the event with a Collaborative Research Visit from NYU Abu Dhabi Social Science Experimental Laboratory.

The event will involve three presentations with time for discussion. Our speakers will be:

Professor Nikos Nikiforakis (NYU Abu Dhabi)

&

Dr. Vasileios Vlaseros (ABEESS Director)

After the event, you are also welcome to join a two-hour workshop with presentations from behavioral and experimental economists affiliated to the lab.

One year has passed since the official inauguration of our Experimental Laboratory in Social Sciences, situated in the heart of the historical center of Athens. The Laboratory's main aim is to revive academic debate, suggest conclusive research methodologies and host interdisciplinary experiments in Social Sciences for international research institutions and universities. It is time to recount the experience of the 1st year and plan the future of the lab.

The event is intended to bring together

- a steadily growing community of experimentally minded social scientists who work across Greek academic institutions and
- behavioral and experimental scientists from abroad, who want to create ties in Athens and to contribute to the development of Behavioral and Experimental Social Sciences back in the city where it all began.
